Allies Penetrate Last German Defenses near Rome

Furious Battle Laging within Sight of Capital

American Tanks Aiding Infantry

By NOLAND NORGARD

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Rome, May 29 (AP)—The battle of Rome—first great capital of a German-dominated Europe to fall—was fought with mounting fury tonight after an enemy wedge had been driven deeply into the city's "last ditch" defense line less than sixteen miles from the Eternal city which is in sight.

In a desperate effort to hold the city at least until his battered forces far to the southeast could be engaged and be withdrawn to the line, Field Marshal Albert Kesselring poured reinforcements into a series of counterattacks along a seventeen-mile front from the vicinity of Valmontone on the Casilina to Campoleone on the edge of the Alban hills.

Americans Advance

These heavy counterblows slowed down the advance of the American and British forces. Gen. Mark W. Clark's British and American Fifth army troops, doggedly pressed their attack on the face of flamethrowers and mortar and small arms.

General De Luce of the Associated Press reported in a front dispatch at 6:30 p. m. that American tanks were attacking German positions of armor, artillery and mortar on the slopes of the Alban hills between Campoleone and Campiano at a point less than sixteen miles southeast of Rome's outskirts. Allied headquarters announced that three of eighteen German divisions engaged in the battle had been virtually destroyed since the offensive began May 11, with less than 15,000 in prison cages. The strength of enemy divisions was estimated at 8,000 men.

Launch New Drive

American and British beachheads launched a powerful new drive toward Campoleone—almost south of Rome—yesterday, and last night were within a mile of the German stronghold. Other troops smashed through the German lines, the model farm community changed hands four times in the early phases of the beachhead.

At their furthest surge to the north and east, beachhead forces were fighting tonight within 2,000 yards of Valmontone, on the shell road Via Casilina twenty miles east of the city. Others were battling in the outskirts of the city and closing upon Lanuvium, a few miles to the southwest, where the Alban hills begin to rise from the Pontine plain.

54 Tragic Deaths Over Week End

[By The Associated Press] The number of deaths from accidents around the nation increased 154 yesterday near the close of the third day of the four-day Memorial holiday.

Traffic mishaps cost forty-nine lives, while drownings accounted for twenty-two and sixty-three were attributed to miscellaneous causes.

Reds Tame Dodgers 13-4

BROOKLYN, May 29 (AP)—Bucky Walters hung up his eighth victory over the season by taming the Brooklyn Dodgers with nine hits tonight. The Cincinnati Reds pummeled the Leo Durocher's tossers for thirteen blows and a 13-4 triumph.

Japanese Put Up Heavy Resistance Against American Invaders of Biak

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NEW GUINEA, Tuesday, May 30 (AP)—American invaders of Biak are running into fierce enemy opposition near the Mokmer Airfield. Gen. MacArthur announced today.

Tough Yankee Sixth army troops which invaded the largest of the Irian islands, 880 miles from the Philippines, Saturday were attempting to take the Mokmer airstrip from the coastal side.

"Strike" in Reverse:

8,000 Workers Will Remain on Job In Brewster Plants without Pay

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—More than 8,000 workers will remain at their jobs without pay at two Brewster Aeronautical Corporation plants, in protest against termination of a navy contract and in order to hold the working force together for other possible contracts, a union official said today.

Eight thousand workers in the Long Island City plant and 300 workers in the Johnsville, Pa., plant were scheduled to be dismissed today as a result of the contract termination, due July 1.

Richard T. Frankenstein, vice president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), said the management of Brewster "accepted our offer as an offer of goodwill," and added that the workers would be housed and fed at the plant under union arrangements.

Seventy-five patrolmen were on duty at the Brewster Long Island City plant, but no difficulties were reported. Meanwhile, 300 employees of the plant marched to city hall to appeal to Mayor F. H. La Guardia for a protest against the lay-off.

The Long Island City plant employs 8,000 workers, and the Johnsville plant 4,500 workers.

Declaring the "whole story of Pearl Harbor" has not been told, Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel has demanded a "free, open and public" court martial "at the earliest practical date," it was disclosed today.

Kimmel's demand was made in a letter released by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) as the Senate Judiciary committee voted to act next Monday on Ferguson's resolution fixing Sept. 8 as the deadline for the trial's start.

Delay Is Voted
The House rules committee meanwhile approved legislation "directing" that Kimmel, Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short and any others charged with responsibility for this nation's greatest military disaster be held before June 7, 1945.

Kimmel's letter said:
"For two and a half years I have waited for the Navy department to bring me to trial. The report of the Roberts commission does not tell the whole story of Pearl Harbor."

He referred to the presidential commission headed by Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts, which made a study of the Pearl Harbor disaster and reported:

Attack Complete Surprise
"The Japanese attack was a complete surprise to the commanders and they failed to make suitable dispositions to meet such an attack. Each failed properly to evaluate the seriousness of the situation."

Kimmel, writing from Bronxville, N. Y., declared he was barred from some hearings before the Roberts commission and said:
"For more than two years I was kept in the dark as to what went on at those hearings."

Red Air Force
Attacks Germans

Bombs Airfields, Moscow Reports

LONDON, May 29 (AP)—Red air force squadrons destroyed or disabled at least sixty enemy planes in bombing and machine-gunning attacks today on airfields at Roman and Husi, Romania, the Soviet communiqué announced tonight.

Both cities lie in the zone between the Carpathians and the Dniestr, and airmen stationed there could provide tactical support of Axis forces awaiting a renewal of the Red army offensive in the south.

At the moment of the raid there were many enemy planes at the airfield, said the communiqué, broadcast from Moscow and recorded by the Soviet monitor. After silencing anti-aircraft fire our planes carried out several bombing and machine-gun attacks.

All the Russian raiders were reported to have returned.

Thirty-five enemy planes were destroyed in air combat and by ground fire Sunday, it was announced.

Group Approves Price and Wage Extension Plan

Textile Prices May Be Higher

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—The Senate Banking committee approved late today legislation extending the price and wage stabilization program for eighteen months, overriding an administration attempt to kill an amendment which an OPA official spokesman said might boost consumer prices of textile goods as much as $350,000,000 a year.

That amendment, by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.), would call for periodic adjustment of textile ceiling prices with a view to boosting the market price of cotton to parity levels.

Approved 12 to 8

Henry M. Hart, associate counsel for the OPA, said estimates of the probable textile goods price increases which might result ranged between $225,000,000 and $350,000,000 yearly. The amendment was included by a twelve to eight vote.

Also approved by the committee was an amendment by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) which would, after June 30, 1945, limit federal subsidies to control consumer food prices to amounts directly appropriated by Congress for subsidy purposes. At present, subsidies are paid from funds of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Commodity Credit Corporation, without limitation by Congress.

Chairman Wagner (D-NY) said the Taft subsidy amendment was approved without a record committee vote, and there were indications it received comparatively little administration opposition.

No Change For a Year
It would permit the present subsidy program to continue unchanged for a year—with Congress to control the purse strings after that. It represented a compromise between pro-subsidy and anti-subsidy forces who have been battling over the issue in Congress for two years.

Other amendments approved by the Senate committee would: Boost government loans on six basic crops, cotton, corn, wheat, rice, tobacco and peanuts, from the present ninety per cent of parity to ninety-five per cent.

Provide for review, by federal district courts, of OPA orders suspending business firms from operations as a penalty for violations or rationing regulations.

Set up a board of review to consider protests against OPA regulations, but leave in the hands of the emergency court of appeals authority to determine the legality of regulations. The review board would make recommendations to the price administrator.

Giants Defeat Cards

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—Mel Ott's seventh homer of the year and Danny Gardella's second where the big blows as the New York Giants squared the series with the St. Louis Cardinals tonight by a 6-4 triumph before a crowd of 21,603.

Youngster Drowns

ESSEX, Md., May 29 (AP)—Five-year-old Earl G. Scott drowned today in a water-filled abandoned clay pit near Rossville, Baltimore county, after an eight-year-old playmate tried futilely to rescue him, Essex police reported.

Allied Trap Is Yawning for Nazi Divisions Cut off from Retreat

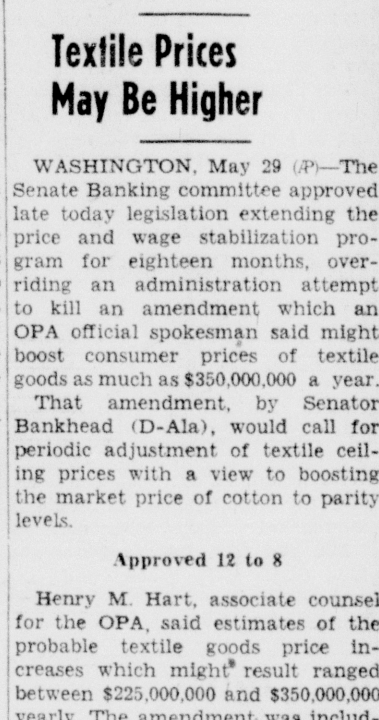

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

A dangerous Allied trap is yawning for battered Nazi divisions south of Rome. Already cut off from direct escape northward by a Fifth army lance across the Cliterna saddle to within rifle range of Valmontone, they are being steadily compressed by the Eighth army push up the Sacco from the south.

Allied capture of Valmontone at any moment seemed certain although heavy Nazi reinforcements have obviously been thrown in there. It would do more than sever the Via Casilina and its paralleling railway, main German communications trunk with the south. Five miles beyond the town lies the secondary road and rail system linking Rome with Frosinone in the lower Lazio valley.

If it also is cut or brought under Allied gunfire, the plight of German troops still deployed along the

CHASE ENDS WITH JAP PLANE IN FLAMES

Headed toward its doom in waters of the Central Pacific near Truk, a four-engine Japanese flying ship, largest Nip combat plane operating in the Pacific, begins to burn fiercely after a nineteen-minute hide-and-seek chase in the clouds as it tried to escape a navy patrol bomber. One fin and rudder of the Jap plane has been chewed away by gunfire. The navy said the big plane exploded just before hitting the water.

Revolutionists Seize Guayaquil

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, May 29 (AP)—A revolutionist Junta seized control of this commercial city after ten hours of bitter street fighting today, and a quick dispatch said that Dr. Carlos Arroyo Del Rio, Ecuadorian president, had resigned.

Forty persons were reported killed in the uprising, led by supporters of Former President Velasco Ibarra. The violent movement was aimed at forestalling a scheduled weekend presidential election.

Maj. Manuel Antonio Hidalgo late today was named military and civil chief of Guayaquil by the provisional Junta. The city was calm after earlier fighting, and civilians found armed were rounded up and confined in military barracks.

Seize Police Barracks
After rebel troops seized the military police barracks in Guayaquil, the revolutionists set up their provisional government Junta, which is holding meetings at a government building. Its members are Francisco Arizaga Luque, Alfonso Larrea Alba, Efraim Camacho Santos, Pedro Antonio Saao, Angel Pelicci, Simo Rojas, Pedro Pablo Eguiz, Baquerizo and Capt. Sergio Enrique Giron.

Revolutionist troops, supported by tanks, seized the Guayaquil barracks of the Carabineros, the military police. A proclamation was issued by the revolutionists stating that the movement was supported by students and labor unions, and that new elections would be called by a revolutionary regime.

Rebels Change Plot

The rebels changed the scheduled voting June 2 and 3 would be farcical, because Former President Ibarra, who had been living in Colombia near the Ecuadorian border,

One Hour Each Saturday Night

ATLANTA, May 29 (AP)—A Mississippi woman seeking Office of Price Administration guidance in renting her apartment, asked:
"How many baths per week should each person be allowed?"
"How long is each person supposed to stay in the bathroom?"
The OPA said it was still looking for answers.

Sec. Hull Ready To Meet Allies

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull announced tonight that he is ready to proceed with discussions with Great Britain, Russia and China on the organization of an international security body.

The "first phase" of his talks with the Senate postwar advisory committee on foreign policy has been concluded, the secretary said in a statement, and it is this fact which brings him up to the point of undertaking talks on a four power basis.

Hull's statement said:
"The first phase of the informal conversations with the eight senators has been concluded."
"We had frank and fruitful discussions on the general principles, questions and plans relating to the establishment of an international peace and security organization in accordance with the principles contained in the Moscow four-nation declaration, the Connally resolution and other similar declarations made in this country."

Trade Commission Accuses Glass Co.

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—The Federal Trade commission issued a complaint today charging the Maryland Glass and Mirror Co., Baltimore, with selling grade B window glass as grade A to purchasers who ordered and paid for the higher grade.

The complaint said the company is a distributor for Fourco Glass Company, a West Virginia corporation, sales agent for a group of glass manufacturers.

Governors Split On Public Works

By RALPH E. WALLIS
HERSHEY, Pa., May 29 (AP)—A sharp division developed today at the national conference of governors over the question of federal aid in a postwar public works program.

Several chief executives entered the discussion after Governor Dwight Griswold (R) of Nebraska declared that "real planning at the local level cannot be done" unless states "know now" what the federal government has in mind.

Bricker Takes Floor
Republican Presidential Candidate John W. Bricker, governor of Ohio, asserted the federal government will have "a difficult job" solving its own financial problems and suggested that public works be left to states and municipalities which "are either out of debt or approaching solvency."

Governor John J. Dempsey (D) of New Mexico, however, declared that "few states can take on the entire responsibility for a postwar program." South Carolina's governor, Olin D. Johnston (D), agreed that federal aid would be necessary but commented, "we have responsibilities on our shoulders if we want to preserve states' rights."

Gov. Dewey Silent
Views of Bricker and of Thomas E. Dewey, New York governor and a leading figure in the Republican presidential picture, had been asked by Governor Matthew M. Neely (D) of West Virginia. Dewey remained silent but the Ohio governor responded promptly.

35 U. S. Bombers And 11 Fighters Fail To Return

German Aircraft Plants Bombed

By W. W. HERCHER
LONDON, Tuesday, May 30 (AP)—American heavy bombers and fighters, possibly 2,200 strong, shot 100 enemy aircraft from the sky and hammered seven aircraft factories in Poland and Germany and a synthetic oil works near Stettin yesterday.

The blow was the heaviest dealt in a day of perfect weather which saw approximately 6,500 sorties flown from Allied pre-invasion bases in Britain and Italy.

One Marauder Lost

One Marauder was lost as the Ninth air force kept pace with the heavies by sending a record number of 400 twin-engine Marauders and Havocs against French and Belgian bridges and a French airfield.

Vandenberg Appeals to Congress To Save Children from Petrillo

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) appealed to Congress today to "release the music of school children from the domination of Mr. James C. Petrillo," and he may get some action Thursday.

He introduced a bill aimed at preventing Petrillo and his A. F. of L. Musicians Union from interfering with noncommercial cultural or educational broadcasts by school. The measure went to the Senate Interstate Commerce committee, which is considering a series of amendments to the federal communications act.

Along with legislation to ban commercial sponsoring of news broadcasts and news commentators, Vandenberg's proposal may come up for study when the committee assembles Thursday.

Kerling Funeral Services Held

By MRS. W. J. GLENN
FRIENDSVILLE, May 29—Last rites were held for John N. Kerling, 98, Tuesday afternoon, at the Savage Funeral home. He was born near Accident and lived most of his life at Friendsville, and a few years at Mountain Lake. He married Clara Ann Teets who died in 1918. He then married Mary Ellis McFadden who preceded him in death several years ago.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Bertha Raymond, Arthur Dale, Florida, and five grandchildren. The Rev. J. C. Foster, United Brethren Minister of Mountain Lake Park, conducted the funeral service and interment was in the Friendsville cemetery.

Two Men Are Accused Of Disorderly Conduct

Charges of disorderly conduct were entered against Moylan Miller, Hyndman, Pa., and Earl Lowery, Ellerslie, at 4:15 p. m. yesterday and city police said the men got in a fight in the 800 block North Mechanic street.

The men posted bond of $10 each for a hearing Wednesday morning in police court. They were arrested by Officers John H. Newhouse, John H. Stitche and John W. Snyder.

Firemen Are Called

South Cumberland firemen were called to the home of Ralph Breighner, 13 Humbird street, at 11:20 a. m. yesterday when residents discovered the gas stove leaking. There was no fire.

Events in Brief

The WAC Mothers Club will meet at 8 o'clock Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary P. Healy, 12 North Lee street. WAC mothers who are not members of the club, are invited to attend.

The County Council of Homemakers Clubs will sell its food booth and equipment at Fairgo at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary Red Cross Sewing Group will resume meetings at 8 o'clock Thursday evening at the VFW home.

The Welfare Group of the Woman's Civic Club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Fred T. Small entertained resident patients at the County Home and Sylvan Retreat, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Henry C. Swearingen, represented the Music and Arts Club. Besides the musical program refreshments were served.

Miss Margaret O'Donnell entertained her bridge club last week at the All Ghan Shrine Country Club. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Henry Duke and Mrs. Elva Rice.

The meeting to re-organize the LaVale Cub Pack will be held at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening at the firemen's hall instead of Monday evening as originally scheduled. James Beacham is troop committee chairman for the fire department, which is sponsoring the LaVale Boy Scout troop and Cub Pack. All interested parents are asked to attend.

Marriage Announced

The marriage of Miss Lenora Rawlings, Oldtown, to Pvt. Edward Allen, Green Springs, W. Va., has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rawlings, parents of the bride.

The ceremony was performed May 11 in the parsonage of the First Methodist church, this city, with Rev. George E. Baughman officiating.

Mrs. Allen is a graduate of Oldtown high school, and Pvt. Allen is a graduate of Romney high school. Before entering the service he was employed at the Celanese Corporation of America. He is now stationed at Murco Air field, Calif.

"BATTLE STATIONS... JAP SHIP ON PORT BOW"

When their ship goes into action, sailors don battle dress. But for the daily routine of work, play and sleep, they often wear only shorts and skivies. So Navy specifications make sure that this most used clothing is made for comfort and long wear.

You can also make sure of comfortably fitting underwear by choosing a brand that has proved its worth. For 43 years now, Hanes has knitted extra wear into underwear fabrics—and tailored them into garments that are accurately sized for comfort all over.

So ask for Hanes by name—the underwear whose fine materials and workmanship at moderate prices have pleased millions of men. If sometimes your dealer's stock is low, he should have more soon. Hanes production is serving men in our Armed Forces and those at home. . . . P. H. Hanes Knitting Company, Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

Memorial Days Then and Now

RECOLLECTIONS of early Memorial day observances and notations of its origin in Frank Lee Carl's always interesting Scrapbook prompt other recollections of the origin of the observance and of the fact that a poem inspired thereby, which became a classic in Americana, served as much to heal the ugly scars of the Civil war and haul down the "bloody shirt" as anything else.

As for the actual origin of the day, it is said to have begun April 25, 1866, at Columbus, Miss., when the women of that southern community, while decorating the graves of their Confederate dead, strewed flowers alike on the graves of the federal soldiers who were buried there. The woman who led in placing these flowers on the graves of those federal soldiers was the widow of a brave Confederate who had been killed in the Civil war.

A report of this touching incident was carried throughout the press of the country and made such a profound impression that it brought from the pen of Francis Miles Finch, a distinguished New York jurist, the poem to which reference has been made, called "The Blue and the Gray," a poem that will live as long as the English tongue endures.

The setting of the poem is in the opening stanza:

"By the flow of the inland river,
Whence the fleets of iron have fled,
Where the blades of the grave grass
quiver,
Asleep are the ranks of the dead;
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day,
Under the one the blue,
Under the other the gray."

The whole poem is moving and it would be appropriate to reproduce it entirely if space permitted, but here are a few more lines indicating its tenderness, impartiality and purpose:

"So with an equal splendor
The morning sun rays fall
With a touch, impartially tender,
On the blossoms blooming for all."

"Sadly, but not with upbraiding,
The generous deed was done;
In the storm of the years that are fading,
No braver battle was won."

And the first half of the final stanza:

"No more shall the war cry sever,
Or the winding rivers be red;
They banish our anger forever
When they laurel the graves of our dead!"

The inspiration of this beautiful poem, based on the action of the noble women of Columbus, Miss., at that time, was responsible for Gen. John A. Logan's order setting aside a day in each year for the purpose of strewing flowers on the graves of our dead and otherwise decorating them, a beautiful custom it is to be hoped will always prevail.

Memorial day is a day of memories and from those memories America draws strength for the hard tasks of war. America is not essentially a remembering nation, coddling the past, but it does have an abiding gratitude for those who, in national crises of the past, offered everything to their country, not counting cost.

That gratitude is a guarantee of citizen morale today and evidence of the capacity of each generation to subordinate personal considerations to the welfare of the group.

How splendidly America has responded to every crisis. In the two wars with Britain America was on the defensive, hanging with resolution to a slender thread of hope which finally materialized triumphantly. The war with Mexico was an offensive masterpiece and proved the young nation's rising power.

The Civil war plunged every section into a fiery crucible from which it emerged chastened and unified. The few blows required to subdue effete Spain established America as a world power and the First World war ratified that ranking emphatically, with young Americans conceding the topnotch combatants of them all.

With every call to arms America answers enthusiastically and performs courageously and effectively. And as the past holds mighty deeds of America and its individual citizens, so the present is producing feats of equal valor to treasure as stones in the temple of victory that is being reared.

A Clear Issue Now Up for Decision

THE INDIANA MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION recognizes that when war orders cease to provide employment, business must utilize all of its ingenuity and resourcefulness to assure plenty of work at adequate wages. Business is planning to that end now and hundreds of industries are reported to have products in the blue-print stage that they never manufactured before.

The extent to which this program can be adopted depends, the association believes, upon what government does and the attitude of organized labor's leaders. The association has issued a statement in which it urges that free enterprise be given a fair trial.

"The issues should be clearly defined now," it says, "so that people in all walks of life may decide between government control of everything and everybody, and free competitive enterprise. Otherwise we may enter the postwar period on the false assumption that free enterprise will supply jobs, only to discover that the American system is not able to function because of restrictions beyond its control."

Left-wingers are determined that the hold government now has on business shall not be relinquished. The leaders of this school, having had little practical experience of their own, seem to feel that prosperity and the good of labor depend upon continued interference by boards, bureaus and commissions.

Here, as the Indiana Manufacturers Association declares, is a clear issue that people in all walks of life should decide. The question is whether government shall continue to restrict and hamper free enterprise, or give it a chance to take up the postwar slack.

Some Who Do Not "Go Fishing"

IT IS DISTRESSING to read such items as that which has come over the press wires from Longview, Wash., noting that union workers of the Longbell and Weyerhaeuser mills, largest sawmills in the world, voted to "go fishing"; and that a strike of Washington region drivers of the Pennsylvania Greyhound bus lines was burdening passenger transportation facilities.

It is equally distressing to read in the dispatches of the day one from New York quoting the New York Times report of Bureau of Labor Statistics figures showing that man-hours of idleness due to strikes during the first quarter of this year were about twice those for the same period last year. The number of workers involved also had increased, the Times said, with 340,000 on strike the first quarter of this year.

We do not read, fortunately, items that our aviators returning from such fierce cloud battles that blood sprinkles the outside of their combat planes have voted to "go fishing"; or that the soldiers in the foxholes of the battlefields have voted a strike; or that the brave men risking death and injury in naval battles are failing to report to the call of duty seven days and nights of the week.

Nor, it may be added with some degree of comforting reassurance, that millions of workers do continue at their jobs in war industries and industries related to the war effort without thought of fishing expeditions or picnic excursions.

All these have neither the time, the privilege nor the inclination to let down in the least on those brave boys at the battle fronts.

United States mint statistics say that a dollar bill will last nine months. Our curbstone philosopher says he once made one last that long but he had to keep it under lock and key for eight months and twenty-nine days.

Suburbanites are never satisfied. They either are unable to grow grass or the durn stuff sprouts so fast they can't keep it well mown.

White House has undergone a spring house cleaning. The Republicans hope to give it another one next January.

No Questions, Please

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Somebody's always asking questions, making up lists, printing those lists, testing your stock of information. They ask:

Who cut the Gordian knot?
Who threw Excalibur in what lake?
What country makes the most matches?
Why did Scott write the Waverley novels?
Who invented nitroglycerine?

What is a dlatom? What author died in Samoa? Is a sponge an animal or a plant? And the answers are Alexander, Sweden, "To make money," Nobel, a one-celled plant, Stevenson, an animal—but I forgot who threw Excalibur where.

But ask me no questions and I'll tell you no lies. Ask me no questionnaires, either. I'm not interested.

Neither do I wish to show my ignorance. Let others get out their pencils and wrinkle their brows and build up pride and store up humiliation for their memories. I don't care for that sort of thing.

I don't want to be hypnotized, either. No intelligence tests, either. Or readings of my palm.

Let the doctor thump my chest if he's interested, but I will NOT have my head examined. If ignorance is bliss, please let me stay happy.

What do I care how many facts have lingered in my memory? What is it to me what curious gold has been caught by the "ruffles of my mind?"

I do not know why time flies when one is young. If I do not know if riches and power make death easier for men, thought I doubt that they do, I do not know whether children believe all their parents tell them—but I do know it's good for them to believe in Santa Claus and good for youths and maidens to believe in love, and good for their fathers and mothers to think their own adventure was wise, and good for grandparents to be sure the struggle and the tears have, after all, been good.

I'm not interested in the answers I find here and there in books. All I care about are the good answers I get from living.

Roosevelt's Hint Of Trip Is Cause Of Speculation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 29.—President Roosevelt was given a hint of what may possibly be one of the most spectacular trips ever made by a political candidate—he may actually be away from the United States during the time the convention is held to "draft" him for the presidential nomination or, if not during the convention, then during a major part of the campaign itself.

Mr. Roosevelt has let it be known through his conference last week with the press that he might see Prime Minister Churchill either this summer or next autumn or next spring. Why, it must be asked, was such a statement made at this time? Certainly it was not without some purpose. Presidential movements are not, as a rule, announced such a long time in advance and with such apparent vagueness covering possibly a whole year of the future.

The real reason is that when Mr. Roosevelt does appear in England he probably wants to be able to say that he planned it that way a long time before—long before the conventions or the political campaign.

Indifference Angle

Besides, to be abroad during a campaign, presumably emphasizes the disinterestedness of the candidate. Why, it will be said, he is so indifferent to his own political fate that he doesn't even campaign or go on the stump but devotes himself wholly to the war effort. If he is elected, it will be claimed this was the "spontaneous" wish of the people. Certainly as a publicity maneuver it will be unprecedented. Many voters will be impressed by the fact that their president will be overseas during the period of critical military action.

Most important, however, will be the contrast presented as between Roosevelt and Dewey. The Republican nominee—at least it will look that way to the Democratic publicity managers—will be dealing with such "piousness," things at home as the loss of civil rights and the flouting of the constitution, revealed in the Ward case, or the scandal arising from the possible failure of the administration to enforce the corrupt practices law because it wants the labor vote and the $700,000 campaign fund of the labor unions.

Clever Emphasis

Mr. Roosevelt mentioned three seasons—this summer, next autumn and late spring. Obviously, unless he is elected to a fourth term, he could not be going to England as president in the late spring of 1945. But Mr. Roosevelt knew very well that inclusion of next spring would start a wave of speculation about his possible re-election.

To some it might mean an absolute confidence as to the outcome of the November election. To others it might serve to make his real purpose vague in case he does change his mind. It was a clever thing to do—to mention three seasons and thus avoid emphasis on the summer and autumn months between now and election day.

So far as his destination is concerned, Mr. Roosevelt has long wanted to visit England. After all, the British Prime Minister has been to the United States several times and courtesy among rulers of state requires a return visit some day. One can almost hear the Democratic spokesman denying vehemently any political purpose in Mr. Roosevelt's visit to England. Critics will be lectured at forthcoming press conferences about their ignorance of the rules of courtesy prevailing among heads of governments.

Good Publicity Possible

Republicans may even venture to suggest that maybe Mr. Roosevelt,

IN G. O. P. BOOM

GOV. EARL WARREN, of California stops over in Chicago on his way to the annual governors' conference held in Harrisburg, Pa. He insists, however, that he is not a candidate for national office.

NEVER DID SO MANY OWE SO MUCH TO SO FEW

Presidential Elector Device To Prevent Fourth Term Is Held To Be Subversive

By MARK SULLIVAN

Democrats who are opposed to letting President Roosevelt have a fourth term have found a new way (or a long un-used way) to further that purpose. This device would take advantage of a detail of our American political mechanism called "presidential electors." The device has been initiated, tentatively, by two Democratic state conventions, in Texas and South Carolina. It is expected to be initiated in at least one other state convention, yet to be held.

Because this device, if carried out, would cause bitter contention, explanation of it is desirable. And to explain the device we must begin by explaining what "presidential electors" are, as set out in a usually forgotten provision of the constitution.

But Mr. Roosevelt, it will be noted, didn't actually mention England as his destination. Maybe he plans to meet the British prime minister on French soil when the first step toward liberation of France will have been completed. Maybe that's the true reason for the vagueness of the date.

But irrespective of politics, most Americans will earnestly hope that the presence of a president of the United States on French soil for the first time since 1919 will be possible sooner than next spring, and sooner than next autumn.

Soothing Balm

From the Morgantown, W. Va., Post

Once again we come to the graduation season, and to those who don't have children in the graduating classes, the clouds of war all but obscure the bright young boys and girls of the commencement ranks.

But for those who are represented in the graduation lists, this season has all the pleasures and heartaches common to other generations of graduates and other generations of graduates' parents.

For the graduates themselves, commencement is immediately a big relief—a relief that the courses have been completed, the examinations passed, and the diplomas earned.

But their parents see further and deeper. They see the years that have gone by—oh, how rapidly they have gone by!—and they see that the boy (or the girl) has grown up. Why it was only yesterday! Yes, parents are like that. They have always been like that, and always will be like that. For the children the years drag along on leaden feet, but for the parents (and most especially for the mothers) they fly with the speed of a comet. Yesterday's baby is today's graduate, and it hardly seems possible that the change should have come about so quickly.

But if the years bring their heartaches, even their tender heartaches, they also bring their balm, and surely there is no more soothing balm in all life than the bright young faces of graduates just commencing in a world which, with all its frets and worries and even with all its darker anxieties and tragedies, may yet justify us in believing it is the best possible of all worlds.

out, would cause bitter contention, explanation of it is desirable. And to explain the device we must begin by explaining what "presidential electors" are, as set out in a usually forgotten provision of the constitution.

The presidential electors—there are 531 in all the states combined—are the persons who actually elect the president, in a technical legal sense. What happens is this: the millions of voters who go to the polls in the various states do not vote directly for a candidate for president, for Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Dewey, for example. Instead, they vote for a list of candidates for the office of "presidential elector." On most state ballots there are two lists, one marked "Democratic," the other "Republican," or some such designation.

Meet at Capitals

Whichever group of electors is chosen in any state at the November election proceeds to function some six weeks later, December 16. They meet at the state capital, cast their ballots for president, put the result in a sealed envelope—all this is stipulated in the constitution—and forward it to Washington, addressed to the president of the Senate. On a given day, January 4, the envelopes are opened before a joint meeting of the Senate and House and are ceremoniously counted. Then only is a president elected, in the constitutional sense.

The electors of a state are supposed to vote for that candidate for president who carried the state in the November election. They have done so, ever since our two-party political system arose, with the solitary exception of one elector in one state in the year 1820. But the electors are not required to do this. Under the constitution they are free to vote for anyone they choose.

Extraordinary Step

Here arises the device which some anti-fourth term Democrats in some states contemplate using. In Texas the Democratic state convention passed an extraordinary resolution. It provided that unless the Democratic national convention at Chicago in July acts in accord with certain conditions—then the Democratic electors from Texas shall not be bound to vote for the candidate for president chosen by the national convention, presumably Mr. Roosevelt. Instead, the Democratic electors from Texas should vote for "some other Democrat of their own choice."

In South Carolina, the action of the Democratic state convention differed, but was to the same effect. The South Carolina convention met, performed most of its functions—and then adjourned until August 2, which is after the Democrats national convention at Chicago. The presumption is that if the national convention at Chicago does anything which the South Carolina Democrats disapprove, as respects candidates or platform or whatnot—then the South Carolina Democrats may instruct the state's electors to use their discretion, as in the case of Texas.

Without Precedent

This proposed method of obstructing the election of Mr. Roosevelt is without precedent. While keeping within an elasticity permitted by the constitution, it would go contrary to a practice maintained since the two-party political system arose. To depart from the practice now would cause bitter and justified contention. It would increase the turmoil, and the disregard for precedent, of which the country already suffers too much.

To prevent a fourth term for Mr. Roosevelt may be, to those who feel that way, a highly worthy purpose. But it would be unfortunate to use a device which is indirect, devious, and subversive of our political traditions. There are direct ways by which Democrats who want to do it can do it. The ways include: Vote against Mr. Roosevelt at the polls in November—that is, vote for the Republican candidate. Or, refrain from voting at all. Or, organize a third party—as was done in 1896 by the "gold Democrats" who were opposed to William Jennings Bryan and free silver.

Who Would Be In Command?

From the Wheeling, W. Va., Intelligencer

Mr. Eden's five-point peace plan, supplementing Mr. Churchill's preceding speech to the House of Commons makes at least one point crystal clear.

That is that the British are convinced that any plan, any organization designed to maintain peace must be based on force.

We agree with the British to this extent: We do not believe world disarmament to be practicable or wise. We agree that, at least until mankind has shown more disposition to live in peace than he has shown to date, only the fear of consequences will hold some people in check.

But the question of how this power is to be exercised arises. If Mr. Eden and Mr. Churchill mean that a group of nations, large or small, shall commit themselves to use force under certain conditions, or to maintain or provide a given number of men and weapons for an international police force, we do not agree with them.

If they mean, on the other hand, that England and Russia and the United States and China and any other nations of like mind maintain and continue their present close friendship and collaboration, standing thus as a threat to any nation disposed to get out of line, but doing so informally and without benefit of treaty, then we agree with them.

We are opposed to armed alliances and international police forces because we believe that moral rather than physical forces must govern any world association of nations that can hope to advance international peace and good will; because we believe that armed alliances breed suspicion and foster counter-alliances; and finally, because no treaty ever held up any how, under pressure.

Hiram Johnson Is Ready To Return To Senate Wars

By CENTRAL PRESS

WASHINGTON—Almost any day now Senator Hiram Johnson, 70, may be back at his desk, ready to return to the endless debates and legislation in which he has been a key figure for more than a quarter of a century.

Enfeebled by pneumonia and advanced age, Senator Johnson went to Florida in January for a rest and some of his colleagues feared he might never resume his active duties.

But Johnson who last spoke in the Senate against the Connally post war resolution last December, has kept in daily touch with his office.

Now he is said to be well enough to return to the battle. But it will be a problem to keep the elderly Californian away from the Republican convention next month in Chicago.

Correspondents Organize

Washington correspondents assigned to the War and Navy Correspondents' Association, and its departments finally have formed an association in an effort to expedite handling of news from those two sources.

It is known as the War and Navy Correspondents' Association, and includes representatives of the major wire services, individual newspapers, magazines and radio.

One of the major objectives of the organization at present is to have the War department assign a general officer to the Bureau of Public Relations who could give valuable background material on military operations around the world.

Consensus of reporters returning from London is that the British have done a much better job along this line because they have made army and navy officers available with the sole duty of keeping newsmen informed on military events.

Crusade Bogs Down

Prospects are dim that Representative Sol Bloom (D.) of New York, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs committee, will get anywhere with his crusade to have future international agreements approved by majority vote of the two Houses of Congress, rather than ratified by two-thirds vote of the Senate.

Although the State department and some other administrative officials have indicated a strong leaning toward Bloom's viewpoint, the plain fact is that a great many senators are strongly opposed to surrendering their constitutional prerogative of treaty ratification.

Own Firm Turned Down

Charles E. Wilson, WPB vice chairman, is the former president of General Electric Company. But this did not prevent him from turning thumbs down on a proposal to award one of General Electric's plants a contract for 800,000 electric irons.

When the WPB program to make 2,000,000 irons in 1944 was broached last year, Wilson was asked to approve an order permitting the General Electric Hotpoint plant at Ontario, Cal., to produce 800,000 of the quota.

The conscientious, bespectacled WPB official firmly declined, pointing out that Ontario is only forty miles from the critical labor shortage area of Los Angeles where workers are needed for the war vital aircraft industry.

Ironically, Wilson approved other electric iron contracts, including one for a G. E. rival, the Westinghouse company plant, at Mansfield, O.

Local Soldiers Are Training with Cannon Company in England

One group of Cumberland soldiers, stationed in English camps awaiting D-Day, is featured in a dispatch by a special correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, who describes the training they are undergoing as the biggest task in history.

Capt. Howard D. Dickey, of this city, is commander of the Cannon company, featured in the story by Holbrook Bradley, who also lists Sgt. Frank J. Palumbo, Cumberland, a section sergeant; Sgt. Jack W. Cunningham, a platoon sergeant; Pfc. Ralph C. Dawson, a cannoneer, all of this city and Pvt. Milnor C. McKenzie, of Long, a wireman.

The Cannon company includes a number of men who left here with Company G before war was declared and some have been overseas since 1942. They recently underwent extensive maneuvers to check up on Fresh was active in a variety of extra-curricular work while in college and was a member of the Student Christian and Pre-Ministerial associations. He entered Chicago Lutheran Theological seminary in February, but returned to receive his diploma along with his class.

Council To Study Park Concession Plan of Mayor

Three city commissioners have expressed opposition to Mayor Thomas S. Post's plan to permit concessions at Constitution park, but Saturday authorized the mayor to prepare necessary data for study next Monday.

The mayor proposes to allow concessions such as rides and a skating rink which he asserts would produce revenue and at the same time keep young people out of beer parlors. Commissioners William E. McDonald, William J. Edwards and James Orr take the view that the park should not be commercialized. Commissioner Hunter B. Helfrich supported the mayor and urged that the plan be given a trial for a year.

The council authorized the Park board composed of the mayor, Commissioner Helfrich, and Mrs. Margaret E. Findlay to select personnel for the park swimming pool and to arrange for the pool opening next Sunday if possible.

A DIPLOMA FOR KNOWING HOW TO Think

JOAN had quite a struggle with algebra. Paul never could remember exactly when the Spanish Armada was sunk. But twelve years of study have prepared these youngsters to think for themselves. Their opinions are sound. Their sense of values, realistic.

They see their community as a living thing in which people work together... help each other. They see the railroads as vital arteries of supply, bringing food, fuel, clothing... many other things... for the business and pleasure of the community. And in rail service they see a safe, modern way to personally contact every city of the nation. To them, the importance of the railroad in bringing growth to their city and prosperity to its people is defined in the real terms of tons of coal and pounds of potatoes delivered.

Today, in our job for war, we, of the Baltimore & Ohio, are also planning for peace. New methods of operation are making for faster freight service. Passenger travel, with improved facilities, will be a source of even greater enjoyment. B & O service—a modern means of transport—will fit the needs of busier post-war communities.

Banquet Will Be Given By County 4-H All Stars

Initiation Ceremony Will Feature Annual Social Event Wednesday

The annual social of the Allegany County 4-H All Stars will be held tomorrow evening at the Central YMCA, beginning with a banquet at 6:30 o'clock, with Miss Margaret T. Low, assistant home demonstration agent, serving as toastmaster.

Charles Llewellyn assisted by Miss Mary Morgan and Miss Florence Thompson, will be in charge of the initiation ceremony. Even those who are attending the state conference at Braddock Heights earlier this month will make their reports and short impromptu talks will be given by the officers.

Folk games will feature the recreational period which will be held at the conclusion of the banquet. Miss Imogene Ryan and Miss Ada Ford will be in charge.

Reservations must be made by noon today with Miss Maude A. Bean, county home demonstration agent.

St. Mary's Holds May Day Procession

The annual May procession and class of first communicants was held at St. Mary's Sunday. Forty-nine children received their first Holy Communion at the 8:30 o'clock mass. The Rev. Lawrence P. Landrigan, pastor, officiated at both.

The May procession was led by second grade pupil, Dolores Lisanti, crown bearer, and two little children in pink and blue; and included the first Communicants, a guard of honor and flower girls and their escorts. Mary Carmichael crowned the statue of the Blessed Mother, Queen of the May. The grade as well as the high school students marched in the procession.

Marriage Is Announced

The marriage of Miss Catherine Margaret Stabler, daughter of Mrs. Sophia K. Burrier, Baltimore, and James Thomas Hoffman, first class petty officer, USNR, formerly of this city, son of Henry Hoffman, Wilkinsburg, Pa., has been announced.

The ceremony was performed May 6 at Christ church, Baltimore, with the Rev. John L. Deaton officiating. Mrs. Jacob Cluster, Baltimore, was her sister's Matron of honor and only attendant. William Booke served as best man.

PENNSYLVANIA MAN WEDS ROMNEY GIRL

Miss Beverly Jeanne Keister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Luther Fellers, Romney, W. Va., became the bride of Lt. Robert Meredith M. Meyers, son of Meredith M. Meyers, Lewistown, Pa., May 26. The ceremony was performed in the First Presbyterian church, Romney, with the Rev. Charles Gibboney officiating.

Miss Mildred Jackson, Washington, was maid of honor; and the bridesmaids were Miss Lydia Grimley, Florence, S. C., Miss Marjorie Creed, Camden, S. C., and Miss Wanda Lewis, Romney. William McCoy, Lewistown, served as best man and Paul Easton, Keith Shaffer, George Stump, and Bernard Hill, Jr., all of Romney were the ushers. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Edward W. Miller, with vocal selections by Miss Louisa DeWitt Miller.

The bride is a graduate of Romney high school, class of 1942 and has been attending Winthrop college, Rock Hill, S. C., where she is a member of the Dorian Music Society and the Glee Club.

Lt. Meyers attended St. Vincent's college, Latrobe, Pa., Penn State college, State College, where he majored in journalism and recently graduated from Midland Texas Naval hospital. Mrs. Mary Reed presided at the meeting and appointed Mrs. Marie McGinn, Mrs. Beulah Clark, Mrs. Ruth Whiting, Mrs. Lara Mitchell, Mrs. Lucy Kelly, Mrs. Eleanor Johnston, Mrs. Julia Raphael and Mrs. Anna Neus, hostesses for the meeting June 9.

Allegany Prom Will Be Held Wednesday

The Allegany high school prom will be held tomorrow evening in the school gymnasium with Al Hart's orchestra playing from 9 to 12 o'clock. The decorations will carry out the theme of "tulip time."

The committee in charge of the program arrangements include Sara Lancaster, Gloria Mont, Margaret Wolfe, Betty Haney, Mary Young, Dorothy Dicks, Margaret Riehl, Beverly Beckman, Ronald Kellough, Walter Davis, and Miss Orpha Bonita Pritchard, adviser.

The patrons are Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fradiska, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mont, and the Rev. and Mrs. William A. Eisenberger.

Rita Dahl Will Take Senior Cadet Course

Miss Rita Dahl, student nurse of Allegany Hospital School of Nursing, and member of the Cadet Nursing Corps will leave today for Norfolk Naval hospital, Portsmouth, Va., to begin a four month course as a senior cadet, on June 1. Miss Dahl has been at Allegany hospital for two years and eight months after completing her senior cadet course, she may join the Navy Nursing Corps if she chooses to do so. It is not the must stay in essential nursing for the duration.

Miss Dimple Abe, Miss Lois Landers, Miss Dorothy Wolfe and Miss Elizabeth Yommer are expecting to begin their courses in the Army Nursing Corps later in June.

"Must I keep used fats in a cool, dark place?"

THE ANSWER IS "No." Keep the can on the back of the stove where it's always handy—always ready to receive scrapings, skimmings, drippings, as you cook and clean up. Sure, the warmth will keep the grease melted, but then when the can is full, set it in the ice-box to get firm.

MAKE IT AS EASY for yourself as you can to save as much fat as you can. Every drop is urgently needed to make munitions, battlefield medicines and for other vital materials. No amount is too small; none too black or smelly to be of use. Save it in any kind of tin can, and when the can is full, hurry it to your butcher. He will give you 2 free red points and 4¢ for every pound. Start today—it's one of the important things you can do to help win the war.

Decoration Day 1944

The Same Spirit . . . With a Different Meaning

IN a swiftly changing world, traditional holidays take on a new significance, and while, on this Decoration Day, we pay our accustomed tribute to those brave men who have fought our nation's battles in the past, we do it with a sharing of tribute for those who are fighting our fight NOW . . . in this war . . . for the very fundamentals of human life.

And in this war, as in no other conflict, we on the home front, in every walk of life . . . in every sphere of business share the burdens and the responsibilities. In proportion to that sharing . . . to the sacrifices we make, will this war be shortened . . . our fighting men return victorious.

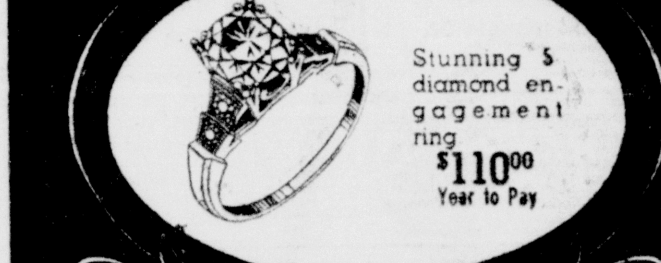

Wolf's urges you, on this Decoration Day, 1944, to take stock of what YOU are doing to win this war . . . and again urges you to BUY MORE AND MORE WAR BONDS and thus perhaps, make victory possible before another Decoration Day is here.

Bowed Heads and Heavy Hearts Are Not Enough This Memorial Day

Humbly we pause this day of May, 1944, to respectfully pay tribute to the rugged crosses and battered, bloodstained helmets that throughout history and the world are symbolic of the sacrifices our soldiers have made . . . and are making to protect our national strength. But in our humility we must be stimulated by their stamina and rise to meet the situation! Our boys must be backed up with bonds! ## Barbizon is the smart graduation gift.

Our Barbizon slips, for instance, are tremendously popular because they're many things to all women. Many of you love them because of ingenious fit and fine needlecraft. Others swear by the luxurious fabrics from which they are fashioned. And every one of you appreciates their long and satisfactory service.

But there is also prophetic smartness to Barbizon—the ability to divine the coming trend of outer fashions, and to design slips to fit the new clothes you are going to buy. That's what so many women mean when they say "You can put any thing over a Barbizon slip without worry."

Use of More Eggs Urged by Todd

Allegheny county poultrymen are asked by the government to produce approximately 377,528 dozen eggs this year as their part in the food for victory program, the National Poultry Defense committee announced yesterday.

This county goal can best be reached if housewives take full advantage of the present egg surplus and plan more menus calling for greater use of eggs, thus encouraging farmers to maintain high production, declared committee secretary, Leon Todd.

In urging poultrymen to meet the 1944 quota, Todd pointed out the current egg abundance may be followed by a serious shortage if farmers liquidate some of their laying flocks because of inability to dispose of eggs at profitable prices now.

First foods are due for home canning...

Now's
The time to get busy!

Civilians Will Get Fewer Canned Goods
WASHINGTON, May 29 (UPI)—CIVILIANS generally will have less canned food in 1944 than last year because the increased flow of troops overseas has expanded military needs, the War Food Administration announced today. The agency said that food processors will be required to set aside about 70 per cent of the 1944 fruit pack and half the vegetable pack for Government use. WFA estimated the Government will take from this year's pack of vegetables about 92 million cans compared to 97 million cans last year. Fruit requirements, it said, are estimated at 36 million cans compared to 32 million in 1943.

Here's how to get rid of rationing headaches, cut your household food budget and make sure you'll have plenty of delicious fruits and vegetables next winter: Start now to home-can all you are able to buy or grow.

In 1944 our armed forces and allies will take 70% of the fruit pack and half the vegetable pack. There may be a shortage of some essential foods. Yet every member of your family needs two fruits and two vegetables daily—or a total of 90 quarts per person per year.

Home canning is the answer. It's easy to understand, simple to carry through. Start your home canning with the delicious strawberries, cherries, rhubarb and other fruits and vegetables which are coming into the markets.

For complete information on canning, call the Home Service department of your Gas company.

In the race to fill the family larder, your dependable GAS RANGE can help put up foods for next winter. Follow directions carefully.

1. Select sound fruit at proper stage of ripeness and vegetables as fresh from garden as possible, and grade according to size and quality.
2. Clean all fruits or vegetables thoroughly before you start to can. Use only those that are firm and ripe.
3. Can them speedily—not more than two hours from garden to jar.
4. Once you've started, continue without interruption if possible. Foods spoil quickly in warm weather.
5. Follow canning directions closely as to length of time and method. This is important for best results.

A most comprehensive booklet on Home Canning prepared by experts, is yours for the asking. Just 'phone, write or call at your Gas company.

Frostburg College Music Professor Takes Study Offer

Nationally Known Folklore Teacher To Spend Period in Colony

By RUDOLPH NICKEL
FROSTBURG, May 29—Prof. Maurice Matteson, head of the music department, of State Teachers college, has accepted an invitation to spend five weeks as a member of the MacDowell colony, near Peterboro, N. H. He has been assigned a private cottage, from June 11 to July 15, to pursue the study of folklore as it applies to young people, particularly children of the elementary school grades.

The MacDowell colony, established by Mrs. Edward MacDowell as a memorial to her husband, consists of several hundred acres of beautifully developed woodlands divided into tracts, on which cottages have been erected for the use of artists, musicians and writers, who have achieved distinction nationally in their particular field of work.

Each persons, invited has the exclusive use of a cottage from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., daily, where they may pursue their studies unmolested. From 5 p. m. to 8 a. m., they reside at the central colony house which is said to be one of the most attractive in New Hampshire.

Prof. Matteson's invitation to reside at the colony is regarded as a compliment to Frostburg State Teachers college, where he has built up a splendid music department. He gained national recognition in the field of music when he organized the Southeastern Folklore Society of the United States, which has its headquarters at the University of Florida. He served as the first president of the society while a resident of North Carolina.

Prof. Matteson is chairman of folk music research for the National Federation of Music clubs and presided at a meeting of the group in Minneapolis last year. He is the author of a book, "Beech Mountain Ballads" and the composer of folk arrangements for chorus and songs for individual voices.

P-T.A. Will Meet

The final meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of the elementary school, State Teachers college, will be held Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., in the college auditorium. The first grade will present the Danish dance of greeting, accompanied by the toy orchestra. The second grade will appear in an Indian dance and song.

The shoemaker dance, holiday dance and a dance specialty will be presented by the third grade. The fourth grade's contribution will include several dramatizations and songs. ## Services at Tomb Of Unknown Soldier Planned in Oakland

Pastor Will Speak at Cemetery Program Following Parade

By GEORGE H. HANST
OAKLAND, May 28—The Rev. Minor Sprague, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, Oakland, will be the speaker at the Memorial day services, to be held at the tomb of the unknown soldier at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday.

The celebration is being planned jointly by the American Legion and Knights of Pythias and will open with a parade at 9:45 from the City hall to the cemetery.

The Rev. Mr. Sprague's address will be delivered following the decorating of graves of veterans of the several wars, and former members of the K. of P. lodge.

Expect 30,000 Fish

That a carload of bass, crappies and blue gills would arrive in Oakland late this summer or early fall, was announced this week by Senator Bernard I. Gonder.

Senator Gonder said he had been informed of the consignment by E. Lee LeCompte, state game warden. A carload would total about 30,000. Most of those received would be consigned to Deep Creek Lake, he said. A similar carload was received here last year.

Elderberries Wanted

Garrett county elderberries will go to war this summer and will be placed on the wanted list, it has been learned here.

Gordon Moser, of the Farm Bureau co-operative, of Somerset, Pa., said the plan was worked successfully in that county last year and is being extended to Garrett county this year. The details are to be worked out by Southern States co-operative, he said.

The elderberry juice is to be used to make dyes, jellies and synthetic quinine. Moser said that pickers would be paid fifty cents per bushel for the elderberries, on the stem. He said that $13,000 was paid out in Somerset county last year for the berries.

Receiving stations will be set up in various parts of the county when the berries are ripe. The elderberry juice is said to make a better product for the cure of malaria than quinine.

Will Sponsor Play

Proctor Kildow Post, American Legion, will sponsor a home talent play Thursday and Friday, June 29 and 30. It was announced by the committee in charge. The play will be "Victory Vanities," and the proceeds will be used to equip the Legion home, at the north edge of town. Members of the cast will be chosen at the time the coach arrives, probably about ten days before the actual presentation.

STOMACH JITTERY?

If the stomach and bowel become disordered, food digests slowly and elimination is delayed. A satisfied user of World's Tonic says: "My stomach was in such bad shape from constipation that my general health was being affected. Sometimes my stomach felt so jumpy that I could scream. Other times it felt as if it were on fire. But your good medicine, World's Tonic did so relieve my constipation that those resulting distresses soon left. Take the famous World's Tonic. privately, climbed to peaks for the year or longer today while many leaders did little or nothing. Investment buying predicated on the growing urge to employ idle funds, was selective from the start. Individual situations, plus earnings and dividend hopes, provided the principal inspiration. War news also was on the side of bullish forces. Dealings were unusually lively for a pre-holiday session — and gains of fractions to 2 points, were well distributed at the close with a few much broader jumps in evidence. The Associated Press sixty-stock average was up 1 of a point at 53, a top since March 21. Transfers totaled 812,260 shares compared with 835,830 in the preceding 5-hour stretch. At highs for 1944 were Laclede Gas preferred, up about 15 points at one time and with a final gain of 11, in the wake of S. E. C. approval of revised reorganization plans; American Telephone, Chrysler, Hudson Motors, White Motor, Nash-Kelvinator, Budd Mfg., Spiegel common and preferred, Oliver Farm, Atlantic Coast Line

American Tobacco "B", South Port to Rico Sugar, Goodrich, Goodyear, Gamewell, Liggett & Meyers "B" and American Sugar. In front were Delaware & Hudson, Sante Fe and Dow Chemical. Park & Tilford broke 3 1/2 points on further profit cashing and Hiram Walker was down 1 1/2. Steels, oils, coppers, aircrafts and utilities were narrow. Improved in the Curb were American Gas, St. Regis Paper, Creole Petroleum, Electric Bond & Share and Jacobs (F. L.). Turnover here was 182,208 shares versus 208,550 last Friday. Renewed speculative demand for rail loans, mostly in the secondary list, spurred prices ahead fractions to as much as four points in the bond market, but the buying was on a strictly selective basis. The rails, as measured by the Associated Press 30-bond index, hit another new high since 1937 at 90.0, up 1 from Saturday. Volume, chiefly resulting from fairly heavy turnover in a handful of active issues, amounted to $9,577,300, face value, against $10,443,900 Friday.

Escaping from Paris into the unoccupied zone three days before Hitler's armies entered the city in 1940, he finally made his way to America by way of Casablanca.

Buster Crabbe and Prop Man Engage in "Feud"

There's a "feud" going on, with rifles and pistols, behind the scenes of the making of the thrilling Buster Crabbe western, the latest of which is PRC's "Frontier Outlaws," starring Crabbe and featuring Al St. John, now at the Embassy theater. The "feud" is between the star and Gene Stone, prop and special effects on the series. Both excellent shots, Crabbe and Stone, on locations into the wilds of California where most of the outdoor action footage on the series is filmed, get together in a friendly rivalry to establish just who is the best shot. Crabbe, since his entry into motion pictures in 1933 directly from the Olympic games held at Los Angeles, has been practicing up on shooting with rifle and pistol. Stone, prop man since 1920, took up shooting when the scripts began to call for trick shots. For twelve years, Gene Stone has been a member of CBS—10:45 a. m., serial, Bachelor's children; 2:45 p. m., Perry Mason detective; 4 Broadway matinee.

BLUE—11 a. m., Breakfast at Sardi's; 2:30 p. m., Ladies Be Seated; 4:15 Don Norman's show.

MBS—11:15 a. m., WFBR singing ensemble; 2:30 p. m., The Gloom Chasers; 4:30 Pull Speed Ahead, maritime.

Today's Pattern

Look fresh and cool in pattern 9219, your princess pinafore. Easy to make, with or without sleeves. Ruffles accent slim lines.

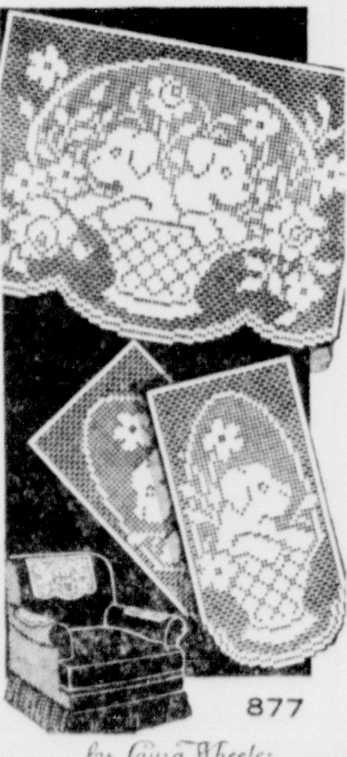

Pattern 9219, in misses' sizes: 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Women's: 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 takes three and one-half yards thirty-five-inch cotton.

This pattern, together with a needlework pattern of useful and decorative motifs for linens and garments, twenty cents.

Send twenty cents in coins for these patterns to The Cumberland News, 39, Pattern Department, 232 West Eighteenth street, New York 11, N. Y. Write plainly size, name, address, style number.

Send fifteen cents more for the Marian Martin new and bigger summer pattern book, thirty-two pages, easy-to-make styles. Free pattern printed in book.

Today's Needlecraft

Protect your chair and win admiration! Crochet this puppy and poxy set in handsome, easy-to-do filet crochet. Use as buffet set, too.

Make a set for every chair from charts that are easy to follow. Pattern 877 contains directions and charts for set, stitches.

This pattern, together with a needlework pattern of useful and decorative motifs for linens and garments, fifteen cents.

Send fifteen cents in coins for these patterns to the Cumberland News, 39, Needlecraft Department, 82 Eighth avenue, New York 11, N. Y. Write plainly pattern number, your name and address.

Fifteen cents more brings our new thirty-two-page needlecraft catalog, 133 illustrations of designs for embroidery, knitting, crochet, quilts, home decoration, toys, Jack L. Caidin. . . He Lives off the Record. . .

Caidin last year discovered the only known recording made by the just-deceased Jersey Lilly. He values the record at $1,000.

The record collecting germ isn't particular whom it infects. Actors, lawyers, street cleaners and policemen all have felt the sting. Once they start, Caidin says, there is no end to it.

There are four main classes of collectors. The first is the lover of chamber and symphonic music. Gilbert and Sullivan are among the top favorites. Then there is the opera lover who speaks of Caruso, de Reszke and Patti in reverent tones. Next, is the sentimentalist, specializing in songs of the "Down by the Old Mill Stream" variety and finally the swing addict who puts modern eight-to-the-bar under the musical microscope and dissects it down to the first embryonic jazz atom.

DEAR NOAH: IS A "WISE CRACKER" ONE WHO KNOWS ENOUGH TO STAY OUT OF THE SOUP?
MISS ARLENE McDEVITT, BROOKLYN, N.Y.

DEAR NOAH: WHEN A GAL GIVES YOU THE "GATE" DO YOU TAKE "OFFENSE"?

and neighbors who were so sympathetic and helpful following the death of our brother and uncle, William Steele, who died June 1, 1944, after a long illness. We are grateful for the many floral tributes and the many kind words of sympathy and condolence. We are grateful to all who attended the funeral and to all who helped in any way.

Flags Are Placed On Graves of 875 War Veterans

Memorial Day Parade Will Start at 10:30; Whiting To Speak

Graves of 875 war veterans in a dozen different cemeteries of Cumberland and vicinity have been decorated for Memorial day, it was announced yesterday by John R. Kelly, graves registration committee chairman of Port Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion.

Kelly and members of his committee, namely, Albert M. Kerns, Paul C. Weisenmiller and James Spearman, have placed American flags on the graves of all war veterans in all local cemeteries and made arrangements to have graves properly decorated in burial parks at points adjacent to the city. Sixty-four flags were sent to Oldtown to be placed on the graves of war veterans, Kelly said.

Among the graves on which flags were placed in Rose Hill cemetery were those of six local men who fought in the Revolutionary war 169 years ago. Veterans of the Civil war, the Spanish-American war, the Mexican war and the First and Second World wars also are buried in the local cemeteries.

Kelly is serving as chairman of the graves registration committee of the local Legion post for the seventh year.

Memorial day will be appropriately observed in Cumberland today by a parade and exercises at Soldier's plot in Rose Hill cemetery. F. Brooke Whiting will deliver the principal address.

Cadet Nurses To March

Thomas F. Conlon, chairman of the Memorial day program, announced last evening that forty uniformed members of the student cadet nurse corps of Allegheny hospital will be among the units marching in today's parade.

The various groups will assemble at the state armory at 10 a. m., and will march at 10:30 a. m. over Baltimore, Cumberland, Allegheny and Fayette streets to the cemetery. Two bands and two drum corps will appear in the four-division procession.

At the cemetery six veterans of the First World War will receive Purple Heart medals to be presented by Lt. James F. Boydland, who was taken prisoner at Corregidor and escaped from the Japs.

New Office To Be Open

Stores, banks and a majority of public offices will observe the holiday by remaining closed but among the offices to remain open are Social Security, Internal Revenue, United States Employment Service and Navy recruiting. The Maryland State Compensation Board office in the Public Safety building will be closed as will trial magistrates court, the city hall and court house. Special delivery mail will be sent out in the city zones but there will be no regular mail deliveries and no window service at the post office.

The Evening Times will not be published today and the Cumberland News will not be published tomorrow morning.

42 Are Recommended For Hospital Care By Plastic Surgeon

Forty-two of the seventy-one children examined by Dr. Edward A. Kittowski, Baltimore surgeon, at the plastic surgery clinic here May 27, have been recommended for admission to hospitals, it was announced yesterday by the Allegheny County League for Crippled Children.

Seven individuals were recommended for special clinics and four children were discharged from the service.

Eighteen new cases were listed among the sixty-seven from Allegheny county and four from Garrett county examined at the one-day clinic.

WIDOW OF ELLERSLIE SOLDIER RECEIVES PURPLE HEART AWARD

A Purple Heart medal, awarded posthumously to Pvt. John F. Shroyer, 23, of Ellerslie, was received Thursday by his widow, Mrs. Ruth Shroyer, Ellerslie. Mrs. Shroyer, a graduate of Allegheny high school, class of 1939, was killed in action on Bougainville March 14, 1943, while serving with the army medical corps.

Additional details of the Ellerslie soldier's death were learned from a letter from a New York marine, Jack Smith. The marine said that Pvt. Shroyer was killed by Japanese mortar fire during a counterattack against Jap positions.

In the letter, Smith said that he had seen Pvt. Shroyer's grave, in Row 17 in the center plot of the American cemetery on Bougainville and offered to take a picture of the grave for the family.

Smith's letter was forwarded by his wife to her sister, Mrs. Wayne Albright, of Ellerslie.

PRIEST RETURNS HOME

After seven years in Honolulu, the Rev. John C. Coulehan, M.M., has returned to Cumberland and is visiting his mother, Mrs. Bernard J. Coulehan, 531 Cumberland street.

He was pastor of Sacred Heart church for the Maryknoll Missionary Society and was there at the time of the Pearl Harbor bombing. After his visit here he will go to the society's headquarters at Maryknoll, N. Y.

VETERAN GUNNER—Staff Sgt. Robert L. Horn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Horn, 20-year-old flying fortress tail gunner, RFD, 1, Cumberland, recently flew his fiftieth long-range bombing mission in the Mediterranean theater with the Fifteenth army air force. Beginning combat flying last Oct. 30, with an attack on the rail yards at Turin, Italy, Horn ranged over targets in Southern France, Austria and four Balkan countries, flying his fiftieth mission on April 30 to blast an aircraft factory at Varese, Italy, near the Swiss border. He wears the Air Medal with nine Oak Leaf Clusters. Born in LaVale, he was graduated in 1941 from Allegheny high school at Cumberland, where he earned a varsity letter in baseball. He entered the army Nov. 14, 1942, and won his gunner's wings May 30, 1943, at Tyndall field, Fla.

Astor Cab Firm To Move June 15

Will Occupy Building Formerly Rented by Steinla Motors

The Astor Cab Company, which has operated here since 1912, will move into new headquarters at 129-133 South Mechanic street, formerly occupied by the Steinla Motor and Transportation Company, Inc., about June 15, it was announced yesterday by Mark A. Shriver, manager.

Offices of the company are now located on the second floor of 18 South Mechanic street. The building to be occupied by Astor Cab was recently purchased by Central Garage, Inc., a group of local business men from Mrs. Peter Wright and heirs, the sale having been handled by James E. Perrin, local realtor.

Astor Cab will use one half of the lower floor for the storage of taxicabs while the other half will be rented later to another concern. The office of the company and an apartment occupy the second floor of the structure.

Founded thirty-two years ago by the late H. A. Jenkins, the company is now headed by his son, Fred W. Jenkins, who is now an instructor in the United States Army Air Corps in Arizona. Astor is the largest firm of its kind in Western Maryland and owns twenty-three taxicabs.

The Steinla firm formerly occupied the new home of Astor Cab for fifteen years, moving to its new building at 218 South Mechanic street on February 16, 1943.

A permit to move its stand was given the company yesterday by the mayor and city council.

COMMITTEE INFORMED THAT RESURVEY WILL BE MADE OF AIRPORTS

A sub-committee of Congress interested in completion of numerous municipal airports, which conferred with President Roosevelt Saturday, will make its report to the full committee tomorrow, according to word received by the NEWS yesterday from Rep. J. Glenn Beall, who is a member of the full committee.

Rep. Jennings Randolph, of West Virginia, who attended the conference, announced that the president assured members of the committee that a resurvey will be made to determine whether the government shall complete twenty-eight airports including the Cumberland Municipal Airport.

The committee represents sixty-eight interested members of Congress and the sub-committee is much encouraged by the conference with the president. Randolph said communities throughout the nation have spent $5,000,000 in turning over land to the government for the airports.

The resurvey will be made by the airport approval board composed of representatives of the departments of Commerce, War and Navy.

Net Gain Reported By Memorial Hospital

Memorial hospital showed a net gain of $2,946.80 for the six months ending March 31, according to the report of Wilbur V. Wilson, treasurer of the board of governors, presented to the mayor and council yesterday.

Operating income totaled $148,496.72 and operating costs were $156,911.82, making an operating loss of $8,415.10. Other income was $11,361.90.

The largest operating income item is $87,897.97 for board and care of patients.

Assets, including $72,885.08 accounts receivable and cash, are listed at $1,163,906.20.

Mayor Thomas S. Post commented the report is "good" and said officials should be commended.

Eleven Pastors, Lay Leaders Will Attend Meeting

Baltimore Methodist Conference Opens Tomorrow in Westminster

Pastors and lay delegates of eleven Methodist churches of Cumberland and vicinity will attend the sessions of the annual Baltimore Methodist conference, which are scheduled to get under way tomorrow at 7:30 p. m., in Western Maryland college, Westminster.

The conference will be opened with roll call, followed by the sacrament of the Lord's Supper and a memorial service for all ministers of the conference who died within the last year. Bishop Edwin H. Hughes will preside.

An ordination service at which deacons and elders will be ordained will be held Sunday afternoon while on Sunday evening appointments for the ensuing year will be read.

Pastors of the various churches will be accompanied by their wives. Ministers and lay leaders attending from here will include:

Centre Street—The Rev. Dr. Walter Marion Michael and William E. Bishop.

Kingsley—The Rev. H. A. Kester and Charles Patterson.

Grace—The Rev. Charles M. LeFevre and Mrs. Cora Compton.

First—The Rev. George E. Baughman and Mrs. Philip Lucas.

Trinity—The Rev. S. R. Neel and John C. Baldwin.

Central—The Rev. Lee H. Richcreek and J. T. Vandegrift.

Emmanuel—The Rev. Richard L. Wittig and Mrs. M. A. Malone.

Cumberland Circuit—The Rev. Joseph W. Young and Jesse R. Dom.

Davis Memorial—The Rev. Louis P. Chastain and Robert W. Young.

Union Grove—The Rev. J. William Pleasant and Luther C. Stine.

Mt. Pleasant Circuit—Mrs. Helen V. Purinton and Marvin Hinkle.

U. S. Employment Service Quarters Must Be Moved

Health Department Needs Space in Public Safety Building

Hunter B. Helfrich, commissioner of streets and public property, was instructed by the mayor and council yesterday to confer with officials of the Maryland Unemployment Compensation Board to determine when that group and the United States Employment Service can leave their quarters in the second floor of the public safety building.

The lease expired last December and notice was served by the city that the lease would not be renewed as the space is desired for the Health department. The $115 monthly rental has not been paid since the lease expired, it was said.

Legal action to proclaim the re-letting plant of the Goodrich Silvertown store, 112 South Centre street, a nuisance was threatened by the mayor and council unless steps are taken to eliminate noise at the shop.

Airport To Be Discussed

Charles Z. Heskett, city attorney, was instructed to write the store asking that a representative of the firm confer with the council. Mrs. A. L. Twigg, 114 Harrison street, contends her roomers are unable to sleep because of the noise.

The Park board was formally given power to appoint personnel. Mayor Thomas S. Post reported the board does not have enough applicants to fill the jobs of life guards and attendants at the pool.

A meeting with representatives of the chamber of commerce to discuss the airport was set for Thursday.

The commissioner of police was authorized to advertise for bids for forty-two police uniforms.

Another complaint was received about the alleged blocking of Frost avenue by Charles A. Roeder and the police commissioner said he would have the street cleared.

The application of Leo C. Reichert, treasurer, of the American Legion Athletic Association, for permission to have a fireworks display at Community park, July 4, was referred to the fire chief.

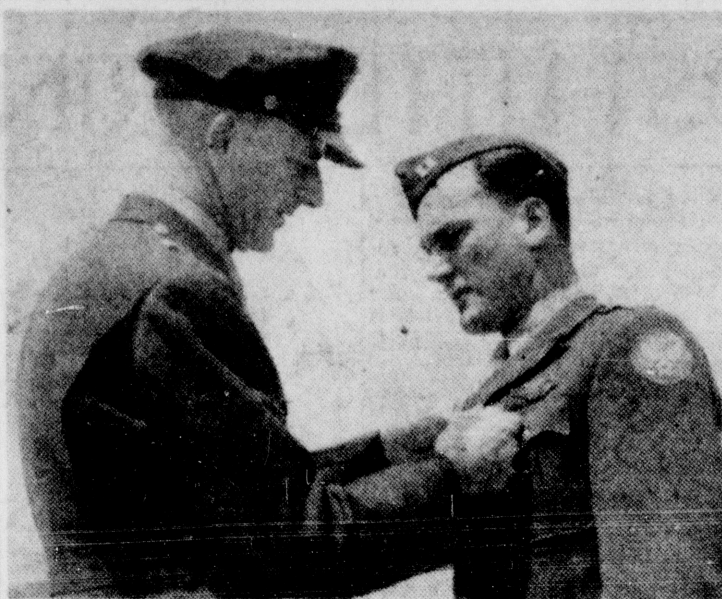

The American Oil Company was given permission to install two 550-gallon tanks at Park and Emily streets, and the Astor Cab Company, was granted a permit to move its stand from 18 to 129-133 South Mechanic street.

To Pay Groves—It was decided to pay William Groves, member of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission, at the rate of $8 per day when it is necessary for him to close his barber shop to attend city business. Other members of the commission do not lose their private income as does Groves.

Water consumption for the week ending yesterday was 70,600,000 gallons. The daily average was 10,096,000 gallons as compared to 10,076,000 gallons for the same period last year. Lakes Gordon and Koon are each one inch above the crest.

Woman Injures Hand

Suffering a badly mangled right hand when it was caught in a washing machine wringer yesterday morning, Mrs. Jennie Spidell, 65, of 50 Utah avenue, was treated in hospital.

Deed for Sale Of Golden-Rossell Property Is Filed

Transfer to Golden Rossell Corporation Completed in New York

A deed for the sale of the Golden-Rossell Company apple orchard and distillery near Picardy to the Golden Rossell Corporation, a new firm, was filed for record yesterday in the office of the clerk of circuit court.

The deed indicated the consideration to be about $32,500, but William M. Somerville, attorney for the old firm, said the consideration really amounted to about $63,500 inasmuch as Archer I. Schweizer and Herbert Lynch, the purchasers, took over two mortgages totalling $31,000. Somerville, who handled the negotiations, closed the transaction in New York on Friday.

According to the deed, the Golden-Rossell Company, a corporation, had its charter forfeited by operation of law in 1942, and William A. Golden, Larchmont, N. Y., Spencer G. Rossell, Picardy, and Somerville, directors of the corporation, were named as trustees.

In April, the property containing 15,000 acres of land, 28,000 producing apple trees and equipment for the production of apple brandy and alcohol was offered for sale at public auction in foreclosure proceedings.

A short time after the property was offered for sale announcement was made of its transfer by a private transaction to Schweizer and Lynch. The transaction was not completed until Friday.

Potato Salad Made 121 Ill

Staphylo Coccus Aureus Germ Poisoned Children, Gunther Says

Staphylo coccus aureus. That's the name of the germ which caused 121 pupils of the East Side school to become ill last Friday after eating lunch in the school cafeteria, according to a laboratory study made by W. Arnold Gunther, bacteriologist of the Maryland State Department of Health.

None of the children required hospital treatment.

The food poisoning was traced to the potato salad which the children ate, Gunther said.

Staphylo coccus aureus is the same germ which causes carbuncles and abscesses, the state bacteriologist pointed out. It is known to grow preferably in starchy foods.

Gunther stated he was advised that all but a few of the children who were made ill by the food returned to school yesterday.

A further study will be conducted at the Cumberland branch laboratory upon the conclusion of which Gunther will make recommendations to the board of education.

Coakley Pays $25 Fine on Charge of Reckless Driving

Charged with reckless driving, Edward R. Coakley, Jr., 139 Winfield street, paid a $25 fine yesterday morning after he was convicted of the charge at a hearing before Magistrate Frank A. Perdue in trial magistrates court.

Coakley, who asserted he lost control of the car on the curve, was arrested by Officer Edwin R. Lily Sunday at 1:30 p. m. after the car he was driving crashed on Dingle hill.

A passenger, Dorothy Nickel, 21, of 229 Oldtown road, was treated in Memorial hospital for a deep laceration on the right side of her face.

According to Lieut. James E. Van Coakley was driving toward this city when his car overturned on a curve while ascending the hill and came to rest against a billboard.

MRS. GUNTER'S RITES WILL BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Annie Wehner Gunter, 76, widow of William R. Gunter, of Frostburg, will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the home of her son, William A. Gunter, 201 Washington street, with the Rev. George L. Wehler, pastor of Salem Evangelical and Reformed church, Frostburg, officiating. Interment will be in Allegheny cemetery, Frostburg.

Mrs. Gunter was fatally injured Sunday afternoon in a tragic accident at the Cumberland Country Club when the parked automobile in which she was sitting drifted over a steep embankment, gathered speed and crashed against a tree on a bank of Evil's creek about one-third of a mile away.

Pallbearers for the funeral will be G. Keas Hosen, Carter Shryock, A. Charles Stewart, Dr. Frank M. Wilson, D. Lindley Sloan and Albert Carlson.

ROBERT D. THOMPSON

Funeral services for Robert Douglas Thompson, 22, of 215 Oak street, who was drowned Sunday afternoon in the south branch of the Potomac river four miles east of Springfield, W. Va., will be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the home with the Rev. J. H. Parker, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, officiating. Interment will be in Hillcrest burial park. The body is at the home.

Both engines were headed west and were pulling freight trains when the accident occurred.

The mallet, tenth now in the company's service, was derailed and officials estimated that damage would amount to about $900. The other locomotive also was damaged.

Cause of the accident was said to be "too close clearance."

None of the crew members were injured.

City Officials To Seek Approval Of Viaduct Plans

Will Meet Wednesday Morning with State Roads Commission

City officials and members of Cumberland Planning and Zoning Commission will meet Wednesday morning at 11:30 o'clock in Baltimore with members of the Maryland State Roads Commission, to seek formal approval of plans for a proposed four-lane elevated cross-town viaduct, Harold W. Smith, member of the planning commission, said yesterday.

Approval of the state roads commission is necessary, Smith said, that plans for the viaduct can be included in the program for public roads being prepared by Gen. Herbert R. O'Connor for submission to the bureau of public roads.

Informally Approved—The state roads commission is particularly interested in the project because it involves the location of Route 40, and Smith said the commission members have informally approved the plan.

Erection of the viaduct was recommended as a postwar project by Cumberland by Whitman, Requardt and Associates, Baltimore planning engineers, who submitted their report to the local planning commission for approval.

Following approval of the planning commission the recommendation was turned over to the mayor and city council and gained their unanimous approval.

Present plans provide for the viaduct to extend from the intersection of Emily street and Maryland avenue to the intersection of Green and Johnson streets.

Mayor Will Attend—Both state and federal funds are involved in the project.

Men who will attend the meeting Wednesday include Mayor Thomas S.
